Consumer Report To The FTC

The FTC cannot resolve individual complaints, but we can provide information about next steps to take. We share your report with local, state, federal, and foreign law enforcement partners. Your report might be used to investigate cases in a legal proceeding. Please read our Privacy Policy to learn how we protect your personal information, and when we share it outside the FTC.

Your Next Steps

If you paid a scammer with a wire transfer:

- Contact the bank or company that did the wire transfer right away. If you used a wire transfer company, call them immediately to file a fraud complaint. Call the complaint department:
 - MoneyGram at 1-800-MONEYGRAM (1-800-666-3947)
 - Western Union at 1-800-325-6000
- Ask for the wire transfer to be reversed. It's unlikely to happen, but it's important to ask.

General Advice:

- You can find tips and learn more about bad business practices and scams at consumer.ftc.gov.
- You also can file a report with your state attorney general.

FTC Next Steps

- We use reports to investigate and bring cases against fraud, scams, and bad business practices, but we can't resolve reports on behalf of individuals.
- We will share your report with our law enforcement partners.
- We use reports to spot trends, educate the public, and provide data about what is happening in your community. You can check out what is going on in your state or metro area by visiting ftc.gov/exploredata.
- When we bring cases, we try to get money back for people. Check out ftc.gov/refunds to see recent FTC cases that resulted in refunds.
